- ❑ EVIDENCE OF FINANCIAL SUPPORT: In order to establish that you will not be a financial burden on the United States Government, you must meet the financial guidelines set forth at: <http://www.uscis.gov/files/form/i-864p.pdf>. To satisfy these requirements, you must bring the following documents to the interview if you have not already provided the document to the National Visa Center:

An original Form I-864, signed by the petitioner for each beneficiary, along with a copy of the petitioner's tax documents (additional instructions attached). Please keep in mind that you must provide an original signed Form I-864 by the petitioner, even if the petitioner's income does not qualify and you have a qualified joint sponsor. When a U.S. citizen parent applies for a child under the age of 18 (IR2 or CR2 cases), we will need a signed I-864W for each child instead of an I-864.

If the petitioner cannot meet the financial guidelines (set forth at: <http://www.uscis.gov/files/form/i-864p.pdf>), then each beneficiary will need a joint sponsor. The joint sponsor should provide an original signed Form I-864 with required supporting documents (additional instructions attached).

- ❑ PROOF OF RELATIONSHIP: You should bring original documents that establish your relationship to the petitioner. For instance, if your parent is the petitioner, your original birth certificate will suffice. If your spouse is the petitioner, you will need to bring your original marriage certificate and additional proof of your relationship (photos, letters, emails, etc.). If your brother or sister is the petitioner, you will need to provide your original birth certificate and your sibling's original birth certificate. These are just examples for purposes of illustration and they are not intended to be a complete list of the types of proof of relationships that you may provide at the interview or the documents that may be required.

Immigrant Visa Fee: In many cases the non-refundable immigrant visa fee has been paid by the petitioner in the United States. This fee is in addition to the fee required to file the I-130 petition. If the fee was not paid in the U.S, you must pay it to the consular cashier before you will be interviewed by a consular officer. The immigrant visa fee is $325 U.S. dollars, or the equivalent in Israeli shekels at the current Consulate exchange rate. This fee is subject to change and based on the Department of State Schedule of Fees: http://travel.state.gov/visa/temp/types/types_1263.html#perm. Payment at the Consulate must be made in cash. No personal checks will be accepted. Only credit cards drawn on U.S. accounts in U.S. dollars will be accepted.

You should only contact this office to report a change of address, a change in your personal status (such as a marriage), the death of the petitioner, or the birth of a child. Please do not send any documents to this office unless you are specifically requested to do so.
